Independent Auditors' Report

To the Board of Directors of Becoming Independent
Santa Rosa, California

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Becoming Independent, which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets, functional expenses, cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Note 1. Nature of Activities

Becoming Independent (the "Organization") is a not-for-profit corporation designed to promote community inclusion and participation for people with developmental disabilities. The Organization was incorporated in California and operates programs providing day training services, employment services, independent living services, and transportation services primarily in Sonoma and Napa counties.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Net assets, revenues, expenses, gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted net assets – Net assets that are neither permanently nor temporarily restricted by donor-imposed stipulations and, therefore, are available to carry out the Organization's operations.

Temporarily restricted net assets – Net assets consist of unconditional promises to give by donors that specify a specific use or the occurrence of a certain future event. When a restriction is met, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. It is the Organization's policy to recognize revenues as unrestricted if the temporary restrictions are met within the same period.

Permanently restricted net assets – Net assets resulting from contributions and other inflows of assets whose use by the Organization is limited in perpetuity by donor-imposed stipulations that neither expire by the passage of time nor can be fulfilled or otherwise removed by actions of the Organization. The Organization had $1,000 in permanently restricted net assets as of June 30, 2015 and 2014.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Organization considers all highly liquid instruments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents, except when a restriction is imposed which limits the investment's use to long-term. Cash is held in demand accounts at banks, and cash balances may exceed the federally insured amounts during the year.

Contribution revenues

Contributions received and unconditional promises to give are measured at their fair values and are reported as an increase in net assets. The Organization reports gifts and other assets as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets.

Donated materials and equipment are reflected as contributions in the accompanying statements at their estimated fair value at date of receipt. Contributions of donated services that create or enhance nonfinancial assets or that require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation, are recorded at their fair values in the year received. Many individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Organization at various events; however, these donated services are not reflected in the financial statements as the services do not require specialized skills.

Service fees and other contract revenues

The Organization provides services and manages client services according to contract agreements entered into with third parties. Service fees and contract revenues are recognized when the services are provided.

Deferred revenue

Deferred revenue has been recorded for event sponsorships and ticket sales received before the Organization's annual fundraising event. The revenue will be recognized when the event occurs in the future period and the related direct benefits are provided to sponsors and event attendees.

Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable are carried at original invoice amount less an estimate made for doubtful accounts based on a review of all outstanding amounts on a monthly basis. Management determines the allowance for doubtful accounts by identifying troubled accounts and by using historical experience applied to an aging of accounts. Accounts receivable are written off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries of accounts receivable previously written off are recorded when received. A receivable is considered to be past due if any portion of the receivable balance is outstanding for more than 90 days. Interest is not charged on accounts receivable balances.

The Organization uses the allowance method for recognition of losses from uncollectible accounts receivable. At June 30, 2015 and 2014, accounts receivable are presented net of an allowance for doubtful accounts in the amount of $3,000.

Property and improvements

Property and improvements are recorded at acquisition cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets ranging from 5 to 40 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lesser of the useful life of the asset or the term of the lease with any unamortized balance written off to expense if a lease is terminated before the improvement has been fully amortized. It is the Organization's policy to capitalize all computers, equipment, furniture and fixtures at costs greater than $1,000.

Contributed property and equipment are recorded at fair value at the date of donation. In the absence of donor stipulations, all contributions of property and equipment are recorded as unrestricted support and depreciated over the assets' estimated useful lives. Contributions of personal property are recorded at fair value which is both measurable and objective. Long-lived assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as restricted support. Unless otherwise stated by the donor, the restriction expires over the useful life of the asset. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred.

The Organization reviews the carrying value of property and improvements for impairment whenever events and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset may not be recoverable from the estimated future cash flows expected to result from its use and eventual disposition. In cases where undiscounted expected future cash flows are less than the carrying value, an impairment loss is recognized equal to an amount by which the carrying value exceeds the fair value of assets. The factors considered by management in performing this assessment include current operating results, trends and prospects, the manner in which the property is used, and the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition, and other economic factors. Based on this assessment there was no impairment at June 30, 2015 and 2014.

Investments

Investments consist primarily of fixed income and equity mutual funds and a trust fund maintained by a community foundation. The Organization records all investments at fair value in the statements of financial position and investment returns (including realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments, interest and dividends, and investment advisory fees) in the statements of activities. Investment income and gains restricted by a donor are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets if the restrictions are met (either by passage of time or by use) in the reporting period in which the income and gains are recognized.

Fair value measurements

The fair value of an investment is the amount that would be received to sell the investment in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Market price observability is impacted by a number of factors, including the type of investment and the characteristics specific to the investment. Investments with readily available active quoted prices or for which fair value can be measured from actively quoted prices generally will have a higher degree of market price observability and a lesser degree of judgment used in measuring fair value. Investments measured and reported at fair value are classified and disclosed in one of the following categories:

Level 1: Valuation based on quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Organization has the ability to access.

Level 2: Valuations based on pricing inputs that are other than quoted prices in active markets which are either directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3:Valuations are derived from other valuation methodologies, including pricing models, discounted cash flow models and similar techniques.

Financial instruments with values that are based on quoted market prices in active markets, and are therefore classified within Level 1, include active listed fixed income and equity mutual funds.

Financial instruments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include the pooled investment funds maintained at an account with a community foundation.

Financial instruments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently or not at all. The Organization did not hold any Level 3 assets at June 30, 2015 or 2014.

The categorization of an investment within the hierarchy is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and does not necessarily correspond to the Organization's perceived risk of that investment.

The carrying value of cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximates fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments. The carrying value of short and long-term debt approximates fair value based on discounting the projected market rates available for debt instruments with similar maturities.

Debt issuance costs

Legal fees, accounting fees, and other expenses associated with the issuance of the long-term debt are being amortized on a straight-line basis over the life of the related debt.

Assets limited as to use

Assets limited as to use include debt reserve funds, which are being held by a trustee for future payment of the debt.

Functional expense allocation

Expenses that are specifically identifiable are charged directly to the appropriate functional category. All other expenses are charged based on a reasonable allocation. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide the overall support and direction of the Organization.

Income taxes

The Organization is a nonprofit corporation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and has been granted tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service and the California Revenue and Taxation Code. As of June 30, 2015, the Organization had no unrecognized tax positions or uncertain tax positions requiring accrual. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been provided in the financial statements. Exempt organization information returns are subject to review through three years after the date of filing for federal and four years after the date of filing for California.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions based on management's knowledge and experience. Those estimates affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts of revenue, support and expenses. The use of management's estimates primarily relates to the collectability of accounts receivable, and depreciable lives of property, equipment and improvements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 3. Note Receivable

The Organization sold one of its buildings and the related land for cash and a note in the amount of $135,000. The note bears interest at 8% per annum, requires monthly interest only payments and is due on demand. The note is secured by the property. The note receivable had a balance due of $114,000 as of June 30, 2015 and 2014. Payment was received in full subsequent to year end.

Note 4. Investments

Dividend and interest income earned is reported net of investment advisory and trustee fees, which totaled approximately $9,000 for the years ended June 30, 2015 and 2014.

As described above, the Organization invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term, and such changes could materially affect the fair value of the investment balance.

The investments held by the financial institution are also subject to be pledged to secure borrowings against a line of credit agreement with the same financial institution as described in Note 8.

The Organization has a $1,000,000 line of credit with a commercial bank which matures on December 1, 2016. Borrowings against the line are secured by investments held at the same commercial bank, but subordinated to the note payable discussed in Note 9. Borrowings against the line bear interest at bank's interest rate plus 1.0% at June 30, 2015. Interest is payable monthly. There were no borrowings against the line as of June 30, 2015 and 2014.

Note 9. Note Payable to Trust

On April 30, 2013, Becoming Independent entered into a note payable agreement with California Health Facilities Financing Authority through the issuance of Insured Refunding Revenue Bonds (the "Bonds"). In connection with the refinancing, Bonds in the amount of $4,865,000 were issued at a premium of $154,599. The proceeds from the borrowing were used to refinance the outstanding long-term debt balance carried by the Organization.

The true interest cost of the note payable is 3.03% per annum. Principal and interest are payable semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of each year, commencing August 1, 2013, with the final payment due on February 1, 2029.

Note 9. Note Payable to Trust, continued

According to the borrowing agreement, the Organization is required to maintain a debt service reserve account with a third-party trustee. The amount maintained in the account is reported as Assets Limited as to Use on the Statements of Financial Position. The borrowing agreement also requires the Organization to make monthly installment payments including interest to a bank account maintained by a third-party trustee to satisfy the funding requirements of the bond issued in connection with the note. As of June 30, 2015 and 2014, $462,553 and $465,495, respectively, were held by the trustee to be applied to the principal and related interest payments.

Future principal and interest payments due to the debt service reserve fund are as follows for the years ending June 30:

During the year ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, borrowing premium in the amount of $7,568 and $11,845, respectively, was amortized to interest expense. Unamortized borrowing premium amounted to $127,992 and $135,560 as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

2020	13,502
Thereafter	72,849
	$ 127,992

In addition to making monthly installment payments to the trustee to satisfy the funding requirements of the debt, the borrowing agreement also requires that the Organization maintain certain financial covenants.

As of June 30, 2015, the Organization was out of compliance with one of such covenants. Subsequent to year-end, the Organization's non-compliance was waived by the bank.
